The phone services are operated by two companies: China Mobile 中国移动 (zhongguoyi dong) and China Unicom 中国联通(zhongguolian tong).

You can buy a SIM card in any official phone shop/department of China Telecom and China Unicom, or in shopping malls. The price can vary from 50 to 200 RMB depending on the phone number (those with many 8,0,6 are more expensive), almost including a fee for the telephone traffic. The refills can be purchased in the same stores or at stalls used for the sale of various calling cards.

Rates vary depending on the company and the type of telephone traffic. In China, the telephone traffic is charged at both callers and those who receive it. We recommend a card named 神州行 (Shenzhouxing) of China Mobile, which does not need to pay the receivers. The cost of a phone call inside the country is on average 0.6RMB per minute, except for special offers.
